Comments:

I am sorry that I am unable to read all the text in such a short period of time and make detailed remarks. However, I am very glad to see the new aspects of AACR3. Especially, it uses FRBR terminologies. As the editor-in-chief of Cataloging Rules for Western Language Materials (the Chinese counterpart of AACR2) and a member of the editorial board of Chinese Cataloging Rules, I consider that we will plan to revise the two books according to the new conception of AACR3. I hope that the new AACR3 will consider the headings of Chinese personal names and corporate names according to the customs of the Chinese people. I also hope I can see the drafts of the other two parts of AACR3 can be seen as early as possible, so that I can have enough time to review them.
