

To: Joint Steering Committee for Development of RDA
From: Alan Danskin, British Library Representative
Subject: Other place associated with the person: Revision of RDA 9.11

Intention

To expand the scope of 9.11 to include places other than countries with which a person is identified, but where they have not resided.

In RDA, a Place associated with the corporate body is any significant location associated with a corporate body, with location of a conference, etc., and location of headquarters given as examples. This allows other places associated with the corporate body to be recorded.

However, this is different for persons: place of birth, place of death, country associated with the person and place of residence are given separately as the only elements available, leaving no scope for other places associated with the person. However, the BL's experience in creating RDA authority records for LC/NAF since 2011 suggests instances where it is useful to record¹:

- A place where a person has worked
- A place where a person has studied
- A place that a person has designed or built
- A place that a person has studied or written about
- A place that a person has explored
- A place that a person has attacked

Summary

Re-names Place of residence as Other place associated with the person and expands the definition to include places other than countries with which a person is identified, but where they have not resided.²

Changes to RDA instructions:

¹ There are already many examples in LC/NAF where 370 $f has been used for this purpose, following the broader definition in the MARC 21 format

² JSC may wish to suggest to the FRBR Review Group that a similar change be made to FRAD 4.1
